

SENATOR DENVIR WOULD USE PROBE ON EXPENDITURES

Has Commerce Commission and Board of Health in Mind

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 7.—Twenty nine bills went into the records of the fifty third general assembly here today, 16 in the senate and thirteen in the house. Both bodies moved along to the end of this week's session and members and their families were tonight in Urbana as guests of the citizens and of the University. A resolution urging an investigation of expenditures in the department of public health and in the Illinois Commerce Commission as well as to determine the number of employees, and if possible eliminate many of them from the service was given to the house by Representative John Deane, minority leader. Increases in appropriations for two units of the department are made this year. Deane says the great number of employees in the Illinois Commerce Commission spend "little or no money in the service of the state" and devote practically all of their time to private business.

A house committee of seven members is asked to investigate charges in the resolution. The Republican steering committee in the house of which Hugh Little, Chicagoan, is chairman was named today and is composed of 36 other representatives.

Ralph Church, Evanston representative and chairman of the steering committee of the house today gave notice that all papers relating to contests must be filed with the elections committee. This will start work on several contests next week it was indicated. The committee has completed its rules.

Initial warrants for mileage due members of the assembly for their four round trips from their homes to the capitol were handed out today by the state auditor before the members departed for Urbana.

Senator Denvir's raging bill before the senate. It empowers the governor to appoint race racing commissioners who will regulate the sport in this state. For every unit of population of 600,000 one race association would be permitted under the bill. Deane would be regulated by the citizens having the right to permit or bar mutual betting at an election in the district concerned. Three per cent of the bets placed would go to the commission and one tenth of every dollar general admission fee would be given to the maintenance of the state road.

In the house, Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Downers Grove, presented a bill asking for an appropriation of $37,000 to be used in establishing and maintaining auxiliary normal schools in various parts of the state during the summer months.

THIS LINER HAS RICH ONES ABOARD

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The liner Mauretania chartered at $1,250,000 sailed today for London on the most costly sea cruise ever arranged in New York.

The cruise, across the Atlantic and thru the Mediterranean, will last sixty six days. Albert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, and Mrs. Gary and a party of friends occupied the Mauretania to "regal" suites. American Express company charts showed the ship for the two suites to have cost $40,000. The cheapest accommodations on the liner were at $1,000.

William Allen White, famous essay editor with Mrs. White and Victor H. Morduck, chairman of the federal trade commission and Mrs. Morduck were among her passengers.

THE DAYS EVENTS IN WASHINGTON

The Central American conference was concluded with the signing of a treaty of peace and amity, eleven conventions and three protocols.

Extension until June 15 of the date for filing tax returns for domestic corporations for the calendar year 1922 was announced by the internal revenue commissioner.

President Harding addressing congress coupled a plea for some action on the shipping bill with a request for modification of the debt funding law to permit acceptance of the settlement negotiated with Great Britain.

The senate fight over the $56,000 rivers and harbors item attempt to prove that the statements of Voliva which resulted in the charge were true, Henry Abberger, attorney for the defense said in his opening statement to the court recommended by the budget bureau.

ARMY FIGHTING PLANE HELPS TO SAVE MAN'S LIFE

Carries Physician to Patient Marooned on Island

(By The Associated Press)
CHARLEVOIX, Mich., Feb. 7.—An army fighting machine and medical science today saved the life of Jesse Cole, a woodsman injured Monday on Beaver Island, an inaccessible dot in Lake Michigan, which physicians were unable to reach because of ice conditions until an airplane was called into service.

A plane from Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, safely made the trip to Charlevoix this morning, picked up Dr. R. N. Armstrong here and carried him to the cabin where Cole had been suffering with a fractured skull. An operation was performed and late tonight the patient had recovered consciousness. Dr. Armstrong reported he undoubtedly would recover.

While Dr. Armstrong was caring for Cole, another physician, Dr. J. B. Brown of Levering, true to the traditions of the north country practitioners, was risking his own life in an attempt to cross the ten mile stretch of ice to treat the injured man. Dr. Brown reached the island this evening after 14 hours of perilous travel over uncertain ice floes, detours, skirting open water, over stretches of clear ice so thin it would scarcely bear his weight, and scrambling thru ice jams higher than his head.

Dr. Brown found other patients in the isolated village of St. James, which has no resident doctor, and plans to remain there for a time to treat these cases.

POKER PLAYING AMONG WOMEN CAUSES CONCERN

New York Judge Says That He is Going to Stop It

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Concern for the husbands of women who indulge in the erstwhile strictly male pastime of playing poker was voiced from the bench on the West Side court by Magistrate Overwater today when Mrs. Fannie Sprague was arraigned on a charge of operating a gambling place.

"I am going to do all I can to stamp out poker games among married women," he said, holding Mrs. Sprague in $500 bail or trial. "Many homes are ruined as a result of men stealing to satisfy their wives' demands for money to engage in these games."

Detectives who raided Mrs. Sprague's apartment last night testified that they had been "tipped" to the game by husbands of women who had lost large sums there.

Mrs. Sprague indignantly denied she was operating a gambling place, declaring the women present when the raid occurred were old friends who had dropped in for a "kaffee klatch."

Judge William E. Dever is the only Democrat and William A. Cunnea is the socialist candidate.

FRENCH CLOSE IN ON ELBERFELD

(By The Associated Press)
ELBERFELD, Germany, Feb. 7.—Several additional towns in the Elberfeld textile district were occupied today by French infantry who also established themselves in a number of small villages of the upper valley. Artillery was brought from various points one of them Wulfrath, just off Elberfeld.

Though the French appear to be gradually nearing Elberfeld, the feeling here is that the city will not be occupied.

WILL ATTEMPT TO PROVE CHARGES TRUE

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The defense in the case against Wilbur Glenn Voliva, head of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church who is charged with criminal libel, will attempt to prove that the statements of Voliva which resulted in the charge were true, Henry Abberger, attorney for the defense said in his opening statement to the court recommended by the budget bureau.

SENATE DEVOTES ITS ENTIRE DAY TO ARMY MEASURE

Discusses $56,000,000 Rivers and Harbors Rider to Bill

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—For the second successive day the senate devoted its entire session today to discussion of the $56,000,000 rivers and harbors bill, to start on all pending amendments not later than 4 P. M., tomorrow.

The debate covered a wide range of argument for and against waterway transportation and related topics, including the constitutional right of the federal government to assume jurisdiction over tri-state lakes and streams for purposes other than that of insuring navigation.

With few exceptions, every senator present was drawn into the debate.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, whose amendment reducing the sum $27,000,000 as recommended by the budget bureau, inaugurated the day's debate declared many projects provided for in the lump appropriation would not assist commerce "one penny" and were indefensible from any standpoint.

They embodied in some cases, he said, improvement of rivers "down which a duck couldn't swim."

Senator Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic leader, insisted that the government would be lax in its duty if it failed to provide for utilization of the "marvelous system of cheap transportation" lying within its borders.

"I know of one instance in Alabama," he said, "where an entire railroad system is being penalized to carry the cost of crushing water power competition in one small section. The fault is in the law which permits railroads to lower their rates in a given locality with this very purpose in view."

In replying to questions Mr. Underwood said the clause to which he referred could be found in section four of the interstate commerce act.

"Every man in the Mississippi Valley," he declared, "knows that the railroads deliberately set out to crush water competition—and did so."

Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho, declared no authority was conveyed to the railroads under section of the interstate commerce act to lower rates to crush competition, but that such authority had been assumed, because of a precedent established in a ruling by the interstate commerce commission relating to the so called "short haul" clause.

Mr. Gooding said there had been "twelve hundred violations of section four within recent years," adding that there would be no hope of successful water transportation as long as the commission's precedent was allowed to stand.

Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, criticized the item because the report of the army engineers as to indicated allotments showed what he described as "unwarranted expenditures."

He cited several of these in which the proposed expenditures would represent an average of from $4 to $20 a ton for every ton moved last year; over the waterway question.

Mr. Lenroot offered an amendment to that of Senator Borah to increase the total to $42,000,000 which he argued would be sufficient to take care of the necessary improvements.

America's Last Troops Arrived Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 7.—"America's last thousand" came home from Europe today, signaling the nation's closing action in its participation in the world war.

From the deck of the United States army transport St. Mihiel, the soldiers who kept watch on the Rhine gained their first glimpse of their homeland after an absence of five years.

With them were French, Belgian and German wives and children who saw for the first time the land they are to call home. Savannah turned out to a man to welcome home in behalf of America the returning troops and to get the women and children from the country's former allies and enemy nations.

The reception began shortly after 11 o'clock this morning when the Cutter Yamacraw and the Tug McCauley met the transport beyond Tybee Bar. A quarantine party of congressmen, Governor Hardwick, Mayor Seabrook and other officials and army officers boarded the St. Mihiel.

As the transport neared Savannah she was greeted by a salvo from two historic cannons presented to the Chatham Artillery by George Washington and from a battery of French 75s, trophies of the world war. The soldiers answered each blast with cheers. Bells, whistles and sirens thronged the city and on river craft took up the cry.

Spectators scattered along a mile and a half of water front kept pace with the transport as she sped up the river. They stormed the docks, overpowering police guards. Fire hoses were brought into play to clear the crowd from about the ship. The stream of water struck members of the congressional reception committee just as the party boarded the transport. Debarcation followed the formal welcome in behalf of the nation. The married soldiers stayed aboard with their families while their comrades formed to parade thru the city.

They were reviewed by Major General Farnsworth and Major General Shanks. After the parade the enlisted men were guests at a barbecue arranged by the local American Legion post. A dance for the enlisted men and a banquet for the officers kept the arrivals occupied tonight.

The St. Mihiel brought back 908 officers and men, comprising two battalions and service company of the 80th infantry a detachment of the first engineers who wear the French fourragere for valor, the 20th service company signal corps and a detachment of medical corps men.

The first battalion and service company of the 80th infantry will be stationed here at Fort Screven and the third battalion will go to Fort Moultrie, S. C., to join the second battalion there. The engineers aboard with the signal and medical corps men will be landed at New York.

The St. Mihiel was expected to sail at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning for Charleston.

FRENCH WILL PUT JOKER ON NAVAL ARMAMENT TREATY

Will Ratify But Will Not Accept Limitation as a Principle

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Feb. 7.—The treaty for the limitation of naval armaments signed at the Washington conference will be presented shortly to the French parliament with a recommendation for ratification but with the understanding that the limitations on French armaments should not be accepted as establishing a principle.

A report to this effect has been nearly completed by Charles Guernier, who was recently empowered by the foreign affairs commission of the chamber of deputies to put the commission's ideas in draft form. The chamber will be asked to adopt a resolution to the effect that inasmuch as the Root resolution prohibits submarines from attacking merchantmen the latter class of vessels should be defined and should be forbidden from arming.

A member of the commission explained today that France was willing to ratify the treaty because she would be unable for financial reasons to exceed its limitations during the life of the treaty at any rate.

Some expression about the establishment of the principle of naval limitation is regarded as necessary as it is considered certain France would not subscribe to the same restrictions after the expiration of the accord in 1936.

The report includes a reservation similar to that adopted by the American senate designed to leave France free from obligations to any armed co-operation.

The report in presenting this reservation and referring to the American senate's action says: "The French government in its turn accepts the view that in case of difficulties the treaty constitutes only friendly obligation to intervene by arms in case of conflict."

"The advantage of the Pacific accord," the report says, "are all purely moral for the interested powers."

FIND RADIUM IN ASH HEAP

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 7.—Search for the $6,000 worth of radium lost in St. Clara's hospital at Lincoln, Ill., Saturday, came to an end late this afternoon when A. P. Miller, nationally known technical expert using an electro-scope, detected the particles in an ash heap at the hospital. It is believed the radium needles were carried out of the hospital in bandages.

The collection of radium, 155 milligrams, is owned by Dr. F. M. Hargens of Lincoln, and is the largest collection in Illinois outside of Chicago. The amount lost was 35 milligrams and this must now be separated from the ashes.

CONFERENCE OF PAN-AMERICAN COUNTRIES ENDS

Plenipotentiaries are Greatly Pleased With Results

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The general American conference which began December 4 at the invitation of President Harding was concluded today in the hall of the Americans of the Pan-American Union with Secretary Hughes presiding and the plenipotentiaries of Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica expressing gratification over its success.

A treaty of peace and amity, eleven conventions and three protocols designed to bring about closer relations and to insure the maintenance of internal and international peace among the Central American republics were signed at the final plenary session, which was attended by members of the diplomatic corps and high officials of the United States.

Costa Rica refrained from signing a convention establishing free trade among the other four republics and the United States agreed to join the other five in the establishment of commissions of inquiry and an international arbitration tribunal.

Secretary Hughes who acted as chairman of the conference and of its committee or the whole replying to the expressions of gratification and thanks of the central American plenipotentiaries voiced "our earnest desire to promote the general interests of peace in this hemisphere and to aid you in finding a solution of your own problems after the signing of the agreements of long standing to the president of the United States for arbitration. The treaty signed recognizes the maintenance of peace as the first duty of the signatory governments declares the violent or illegal alteration of the constitutional organization in any of the republics a menace to all pledges each not to recognize any government resulting from a revolution."

Each signatory also agrees not to intervene in the international affairs of any other nor to permit the organization within the territory of a revolutionary movement directed against any recognized government.

Secret treaties are barred and the five republics agree to seek constitutional rights.

Exportation of munitions from one country to another in the five countries is forbidden.

OFFICIALS TESTIFY AS TO EFFECTS OF STRIKE

(By The Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 7.—Federal officials from Missouri, Arkansas and Texas and local business men testified to effects of the shopmen's strike last summer on transportation and business conditions at the government hearing today. The hearing is being held to take depositions to support the government's plea for making permanent the Wilkerson injunction against the striking shop crafts.

Officials of the Burlington and St. Louis Southwestern told of attacks upon employees by alleged strikers at various points and to curtailment of traffic as a result of the strike. It has been testified that the strike cost the Burlington $3,000,000 and the Missouri Pacific $5,000,000. Neither of the railroads have reached an agreement with the shop crafts.

W. J. Edwards, president of the Merchant's Exchange, the local grain market declared that the strike "paralyzed the movement of grain" between last July and November due to uncertainty among buyers and shippers.

E. F. Bisbee, vice president of the National Stock Yards at East St. Louis, said there was a similar effect upon livestock shipments.

RELIGION ONLY THING TO MAKE COUNTRY SAFE

Speaker Emphasizes Need of Week Day Instruction

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—A new epoch in the history of educational development of the country—that of week day religious instruction—is before the country and must be met, Dr. James V. Thompson of Chicago declared at the annual meeting tonight of the young people's and the week day school department of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal church.

In the United States two out of every three boys and girls of school age have no religious education of any kind, Hebrew, Catholics or Protestant, he declared.

"No civilization, no government is safe until its citizens are equipped with sufficient moral and ethical principle to insure respect and support for law and order, social justice and progressive developments and acceptance of common moral sanctions. What a nation desires in its life must be taught its children. This is not a question of making America Catholic, Protestant or Hebrew. It is a question of whether American citizenship shall be under girded with moral and ethical principles. We must recognize that no education is complete without religion."

"The church is now in the process of organizing a church school system that will reach every child."

"This system will have its Sunday, week day and vacation school sessions. The movement has passed the experimental stage except in lesson course and this field is being rapidly developed."

LIQUOR PIRATES TUNNEL 150 FEET TO GET WHISKEY

Value of Liquor Found Estimated at Over $245,000

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 7.—Digging a tunnel 150 feet long and three feet wide from the cellar of a house to the warehouse of the Stuart Distilling company's a band of liquor thieves with the aid of a rubber hose as a "pipe line" and a suction pump siphoned more than 100 barrels of whiskey. The robbery was discovered early today when the police, acting on a tip from an unknown source, forced an entrance into the dwelling. The liquor was valued at upwards of $245,000.

Police officials tonight learned that William H. Mattson, proprietor of a saloon, had bought the house last December from Christian Yanson. When questioned by officials, Mattson declared he did not know who the occupants of the house were. It is not known how long the robbery has been carried on but police officials have learned that for two weeks nearby residents have seen two automobile trucks at the house nightly and depart soon afterward.

FORMER RESIDENT GETS INTO TROUBLE

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 7.—As a result of an argument over an old box found in the city dump, John Landfield, 75 years old, was shot in the neck and severely injured by Willis Blue, colored, who is said by the sheriff's office to have spent several years in the hospital for the insane at Jacksonville for killing his brother in an argument several years ago.

Blue formerly resided in this city and while here was a hard worker being employed as a coal hauler. He had some trouble here some years ago with his half brother, Lee Blue. It was claimed by Blue that his half brother was chasing him with a knife when he shot him. The coroner's jury acquitted Blue at the hearing.

Springfield authorities notified local officials to watch for Blue who was thought to be headed this way but at the time of going to press no trace of him had been found here.

DEATH PENALTY IS THREATENED FOR GERMANS

Tampering With Rail Equipment will Be Punished Quickly

(By The Associated Press)
DUESSELDORF, Feb. 7.—The death penalty will be inflicted on Germans caught tampering with railroad equipment or signal boxes or for other acts of sabotage endangering the lives of travelers, the French authorities announce.

This is the first time threats of capital punishment have been made by the occupying authorities.

This is the first time threats of capital punishment have been made by the occupying authorities.

Sentries have been ordered to fire to kill, upon any person approaching railroad crossings, tower houses or stations and refusing to halt after the customary challenge.

General DeGoutte declared today that if the Germans in obeying the orders of "the committee for defense and reprisals in the Ruhr" persist in these outrages no mercy will be shown.

Agents of the committee are circulating freely in the Ruhr, especially from Elberfeld, which is less than two miles from the extreme advance posts of the French occupation at Dornap. Troops completely encircle Elberfeld, the line running from Dornap to Vohwinkel, thence southeast to Lennep, then to Donberg to the north and again west to Wulfrath.

French occupied area is in sullen mood, the populace being sulky and refusing to halt at street cars, serve food in the restaurants to the French or salute the French officers and making every attempt to make the life of the troops unbearable. The women folk have been threatened by the male element with shorn heads if seen conversing with French officers or soldiers.

French control of the railroad yards around Elberfeld prevents the export of any coal to southern Germany.

The Germans have not attempted to pass coal thru the cordon, but last night tried to slip by with a 30 car train of benzol which was confiscated.

The service lines running to Cologne from Elberfeld are normal but the Bavarian Palatinate is at a complete standstill as are Mayence, Coblenz and the entire occupied area in the Rhineland and the Ruhr.

The citizens of Elberfeld have been in a high state of excitement since the encirclement of the city and do not discriminate between the different nationalities of foreigners. Correspondents crossing the city were halted and made to show their passports but the police refused to make any effort to check the angry crowds around the automobiles threatening physical violence to "the swine foreigners."

The explanation that the correspondents were English and American brought the retort: "You are just as bad as the French why didn't you prevent them coming into the Ruhr?"

The output of the mines is now only ten per cent of normal yet the country is literally covered with coal.

The French today placed an embargo on gondola cars leaving the Ruhr whether loaded or light.

many flowers, borrowed from God. If the flowers die or wither thank God for a summer loan of them.—Rutherford.

Come, the French chemist, has a wonderful field for operations if he proposes to cure the ills of Chicago. At any rate, the Frenchman is creating a furor in the big city, and already hundreds of skeptics have been converted to belief in the effectiveness of auto-suggestions and the magic of the words. "Every day in every way I am growing better and better."

It is proposed to send representatives of the Illinois general assembly into New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Michigan to learn at first hand about the state police systems and the effectiveness of the work done. Certainly this effort to learn the facts about the experiences of other states where such systems are maintained indicates a desire on the part of Illinois legislators to determine the fate of the proposed law here on the merits of the case rather than as a matter of unprejudiced personal opinion or prejudice.

The case in Springfield wherein a speeding autoist struck a woman, inflicting injuries resulting in her death, has resulted in renewed effort to enforce traffic laws in the capital city. In this instance as so often happens, the careless car driver did not stop to learn the extent of his victim's injuries, but made his escape.

The increasing number of cases of this kind in all of the large cities and in some of the smaller ones is rapidly focusing public attention upon traffic law violations to such an extent that some way of controlling or punishing the speedster will certainly be found.

A statement by a representative of the interstate commerce indicates that an order for the sale of the C. P. & St. L. will in all likelihood be made. That seems to be the reasonable procedure in the case of this railroad. A sale will no doubt bring a purchaser and under a reasonable plan a way will be found to keep the road in operation. Any other course will not be fair to the public and, after all, the purpose of the operation

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM ROVER'S CHANT

By Berton Braley

LET'S go roll, roll, rolling down the road,
Tramp, tramp, tramping down the trail!
Oh, we'll roam, roam, roam, till we come back home,
Greeting every rover with a hail, hail, hail!
Let's go blow, blow, blowing with the wind,
Swing, swing, swinging on a log,
Oh, we may not know where to go, go, go,
But the beat, beat, beat of our faring feet
Is the drum for our marching song.

UNDER the vault of the sky overarching,
We shall go marching, marching, marching,
Over the hilltop and down in the hollow,
Following paths that the wanderers follow;
Who has the heart and the soul of a rover,
Weary of doing things over and over?
Let him be one of us, treading the loam,
Round the wide world, round the wide world,
Round the wide world and home!

COME, come, come along, along with us,
Hum, hum, hum a roving song with us,
Sun, wind and rain and the free road before us,
Hark to the beat of the chorus:
Let's go roll, roll, rolling down the road,
Tramp, tramp, tramping down the trail,
For we'll roam, roam, roam, till we come back home,
Greeting every rover with a hail, hail, hail!

I WANT TO GROW WITH GROWING JACKSONVILLE

(Contributed.)

No matter where I roam,
I'll never find a home, like the town I call my own;
I've traveled far and wide, but always look with pride
To my mayor who rules there from his throne,
So I am going there,
I'll leave behind dull care,
I'm going there and I'll not be alone.
I'm going out there where they're growing,
I'm going back to dear old Jacksonville.
I've seen the rest,
I love it best,
And its Athens of the west,
The birds are singing,
And laughter rings,
It's the liveliest town you ever saw,
You bet I'm going
Where they're growing,
I want to grow with growing Jacksonville.

TERIBLE FORCES.

By NEA.

Did you ever see a dog tremble and howl when a certain note was struck on a piano? The dog receives thru the ether, from the piano, a vibration that disrupts his nervous system and causes him great pain. In that vibration you have about as simple an explanation of radio as you'll ever find.

Another illustration: When the orchestra plays a certain tune, you find it almost impossible to keep still. Like a tuning fork, you catch the music's vibrations and become synchronized therewith. Your foot, your fingers, your vocal cords, your nerve currents—even your pulse—beat time with the music.

You are a wireless receiving set responding to vibrations. These vibrations are of two kinds—physical (material) and psychic. About 15 years ago, the world was going along calmly, people rather placid, few of us really excited except when we found money, narrowly escaped death or unconsciously became attuned to the vibrations of a soap box orator or a mob.

Then a restlessness broke out in Buenos Aires, in the form of a dance called the tango. This dance spread rapidly all over the world. It was to the public's nerves internationally, like touching a match to kerosene.

No one realized it then, but a great psychic force had begun to flow thru us, working us up to a half-mad condition of highly-strung nerves that was to find its climax in the world war.

That psychic current went thru us like a cyclone thru a Kansas village. The current has nearly run its course. It is vanishing in the distance, leaving us behind—rather burnt out, exhausted, weakened.

Periodically these terrific psychic currents flow thru the world's people and cause what psychiatrists call "mass movements" or "mob exhilaration." Such a current was the wave of desire for personal liberty that started with our Declaration of Independence and is not yet at its height.

The spiritually blind are wondering whether whisky will come back. They are like a man staring at the devastation of a tornado and insisting, "It can't be! I was here a few minutes ago and everything was all right." The prohibition movement, a psychic wave, is sweeping the whole world. In every important country, drinkers are talking about prohibition. They fear it, and their fear is a pronouncement, a sensing of an oncoming invisible force.

When you have a few million years to spare, try to figure out where these psychic currents come from.

THIRTEEN YEARS OF SCOUTING

Boys Scouts throb the country are today celebrating the Thirtieth Anniversary of their organization. A feature of the celebration is a pledged increase in membership of 100,000 boys, bringing the total to the half million mark.

"The aim of the Movement," says James E. West, Chief Scout Executive, "is character building and citizenship training thru organized work and play in the out-of-doors."

In its brief history the Boy Scout Movement, in conjunction with its slogan, "Do a Good Turn Daily," has given the country organized capable services in campaigns for Safety First, Clean-Up, Better Health, Forest Fire Fighting, Wild Life Conservation, Bird Protection, and similar important interests. Competent first aid has been rendered in many individual cases, and in connection with most public disasters, such as the influenza epidemic, the Pueblo and the San Antonio floods, and the Knickerbocker theater tragedy. During the past year six hundred and three Boy Scouts have been awarded medals for risking their lives in trying to save others. In addition to the community good turns, countless individual good turns have been performed. Carrying a baby up a hill for a lady; holding a horse for a man at the depot; caring for sick animals; helping guide blind persons; adopting with courtesy to pick up papers that have fallen from the strand of an old vendor, have been typical of scouts' daily good turns.

Thru Scouting a great impulse has been given to outdoor life. Summer camping for boys has been put on an organized basis. Over 175,000 Boy Scouts last summer spent two weeks or more each in camp. Winter camping is also being promoted by the organization.

The Movement thru its direction of the boys' time into channels of wholesome, constructive activity has been pronounced by social agencies as one of the great factors in the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

In the scout program provision is made for a boy to advance in rank. Among the requirements for such advancement are first-aid, swimming, life saving, signaling, knot-tying, hiking and camping. In addition a scout can work for merit badges in one or more of sixty-one subjects. Among these subjects are personal and public health, radio, carpentry, agriculture, cooking, drawing, music, painting, staking, angling, archery and nature study. Thus far over 455,278 merit badges have been awarded to scouts who have fulfilled the requirements necessary to gain such an honor.

The great guiding principle of the movement, the Scout Oath, which every member promises to follow is: "On my honor, I will do my best:

1. To do my duty to God and my country; and to obey the Scout law;

2. To help other people at all times;

3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

The Scout Law embraces twelve points: trustworthiness, loyalty, helpfulness, friendliness, courtesy, kindness, obedience, cheerfulness, thrift, bravery, cleanliness, reverence.

Obituary Sketch

Dr. John Hardin Stewart, the fifth son of Dr. Henry Milton Stewart and Caroline Madden Stewart, was born August 6, 1846, on the Stewart place one and one-half miles southwest of Exeter. He attended school in the old Hickory school house near his father's home, where he grew up among the girls and boys, to whose families he afterward ministered.

Altho too young to enter his country's service, he ran away from his home and did commission work in Kentucky for a short time before the close of the Civil war.

He attended school in Jacksonville and on coming home taught the school near Bluffs. In 1868 he was married to Miss Kathleen Theodora Reid, of Granby, Conn., and to this union were born five children: Caroline Helen, Rachel Higley, John Hardin and Mary Louise.

In 1870 the deceased was graduated from Rush Medical college in Chicago and began the practice of medicine in Bethel, Ill. He was called back to Exeter fifty-two years ago to enter into partnership with his eldest brother, Dr. Clayton Stewart. Eventually Dr. Clayton Stewart resigned, leaving the practice to his brother, John, who carried it on alone until 1908, when again for a short time he was in partnership this time with his son Dr. John Hardin Stewart, Jr. This partnership was dissolved in 1916 at the time of the death of the wife of the elder Dr. Stewart. The latter wandered away to find solace but was always drawn back as a lodestone to a star, to the place where he had spent his best and happiest days.

Surviving is one sister, Mrs. Eliza Ann Skinner of Virden. There are also three children surviving Dr. John Hardin Stewart of Bluffs; Mrs. J. R. Hubbard of Winchester and Mrs. Earl Miner of Plainview, Tex.

Some Pioneer History

FROM MANUSCRIPTS OF FRANK J. HEINL
In compiling this story of a century ago errors may have crept in and important facts may have been omitted. Suggestions and corrections will be acceptable.

The Routes to Illinois
Explorers and pioneer colonists entered Illinois over the same part of its magnificent waterways. The valley of the Mississippi is separated from the basin of the Great Lakes by a low and narrow watershed approached from the lakes by short rivers easily ascended and readily crossed by portage paths to streams flowing directly or indirectly into the Mississippi. From Lake Erie the Allegheny river was reached by way of Lake Chautauqua or French creek, the Ohio river by way of the Beaver, the Muskingum and the Scioto and the Wabash by way of the Maumee. From Lake Michigan the Illinois river was reached by way of the St. Joseph and Kankakee rivers, the Chicago and Desplaines rivers, and the Mississippi river by way of Green Bay and the Fox and Wisconsin rivers. At several of these portages springs flooded enabled travelers to push their canoes from one system to the other without a carry.

In the early days the most important of these routes into Illinois were the Chicago-Desplaines, the Maumee-Wabash and the Fox-Wisconsin. After the French settlements were established in southern Illinois, and the lower Mississippi, the latter river became a very important way into Illinois and continued so until after the coming of the railroads. After the French and Indian War, the Ohio river became the great water entrance into Illinois. Its eastern branches reached well into the colonies along the Atlantic, its southern branches headed in the southern colonies and its northern branches had easy communication with the Great Lakes. When the tide of emigration set into Illinois from the eastern states it came mainly over three routes, the Ohio river, the Mississippi river and by way of the Great Lakes.

Westward Ho.
Pittsburg Gate Way
After the Revolutionary War Pittsburg became the most important gateway to the west. It then took twenty or thirty days for a wagon to go from Philadelphia or Baltimore to Pittsburg. On the Ohio there was then an almost incessant procession of flat boats passing down with merchandise. In 1796 a thousand such craft passed Marietta. Every month a passenger boat left Pittsburg for Cincinnati. Its cabins were bullet proof and it carried six single-pounder guns. A mail boat similarly armed plied between Wheeling and Cincinnati. There was little use for the armament on these boats as they were seldom interrupted by savage marauders.

River Craft

After the War of 1812, Pittsburg for several months of every year was crowded with emigrants, and its water front was fringed with boats of every kind. On the river could be procured at a moment's notice canoes cut from a single log, pirogues able to carry barrels, skiffs of from five hundred to twenty thousand pounds burden, bateaux, skiffs of from five hundred to twenty thousand pounds burden, bateaux, arks, barges and keel boats.

The old time barge was a cumbersome, slow and dangerous contrivance. These boats were from twenty-five to a hundred feet long, with a breadth of beam of from fifteen to twenty feet, and a carrying capacity of from six to one hundred tons. The receptacle for freight was a large covered coffer, called a "cargo-box" which occupied a considerable portion of the bulk. Near the stern was a small apartment where the owner or captain was quartered at night. On the elevated roof of this cabin the steersman stood to guide the unwieldy craft. The boats usually carried two masts capable of relieving the men when the wind was right. About fifty men were in the crew, and their labors on a long voyage were varied—sometimes they pulled at heavy cars, or towed the boat from the shore. Occasionally they were obliged to warp their way along, and then again to take a spell at pulling, in fact, it was pole and warp, and tow and row, for months of most disheartening toil to move a cargo.

Provided with boats and a guide to the river to warn him of obstructions and dangerous places, the emigrant could push off into the stream and float slowly down the current. The river banks were then dotted with a succession of frontier towns.

Phenomenal Growth

From 1815 the growth of the west was phenomenal and took place at the coast of the east. From 1811 the stream of emigrants traveling westward along the great highways of New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia, was steady and large in volume. In one month in 1811 there passed westward thru one Pennsylvania village two hundred and thirty-six wagons with men, women and children. In the winter of 1814 the exodus from the seaboard states became alarming. Old settlers in central New York had never seen so many teams and sleighs loaded with men, women and children and household goods traveling westward. The roads passing thru Auburn, N. Y., were thronged all winter with flitting families from the eastern states.

At Zanesville, Ohio, in 1816, fifty wagons, westward bound, crossed the Muskingum in one day.

It was said in 1816, with much truth, that it seemed as if Virginia, Kentucky and Carolina had agreed to pour their citizens into Illinois and Missouri for the purpose of making them states. Day after day every ferry on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers was crowded with passing families and their negroes, wagons, carts and carriages.

Fed by this never-ending stream of newcomers, the West was almost transformed. Towns grew and villages sprang up with a rapidity which even in these days of rapid and easy communication would be thought amazing. (To be Continued)

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have before. It is a message from a mother who has been through it. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was who first produced a healthy baby. "Mother's Friend," Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Write for free book, "Motherhood and the Baby," containing important information, and all about "Mother's Friend," to Bradfield Regulator Co., 2431 Atlantic, N. Y. "Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists everywhere.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

White Clothes on the Line

Do the clothes which hang on your line Monday morning glisten and gleam in the sunlight? If not you may be sure your neighbors are talking and branding you as a careless housekeeper. For there is no longer an excuse for poorly washed clothes.

Electricity has raised the standard of washing beyond the power of elbow grease. Washboard calisthenics, no matter how strenuous, will not produce satisfactory results—the principle of washing is flushing, not scrubbing.

We are prepared to demonstrate the Laundry Queen Washer at our store at any time.

WILLARD TO MEET FLOYD JOHNSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Jess Willard former heavyweight champion and Floyd Johnson of Iowa, aspirant to the world's title were matched today to meet May 12 in a 15-round bout to a decision at the New Yankee Stadium, for the benefit of the milk fund of the mayor's committee of women. The boxers were guaranteed $25,000 each.

Alho he has announced that he was opposed to adding heavy-weight bouts because of the large amounts of money involved. Chairman William Muldoon of the state boxing commission has approved the Willard-Johnson bout because the net proceeds will go to charity. The bout may lead the winner to an encounter with Jack Dempsey, the titleholder, as both men have been in the forefront of recent discussions of the next battle for the world's championship.

It was pointed out tonight that sentiment toward a title bout may change sufficiently after the Willard-Johnson battle is held to warrant Chairman Muldoon changing his mind. Willard, who has been training daily in the gymnasium at Madison Square Garden will look for a permanent camp site in the next few days and probably will locate near Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Johnson who also has been training in the metropolitan district likewise probably will move upstate.

HIGH SCHOOL TOSSEYS TO PLAY TAYLORVILLE

Tomorrow evening at David Prince gymnasium the high school quintet will meet Taylorville high school team, one of the fastest in the state. The boys from Christian county defeated Jacksonville in their home floor, and the locals will have to fight hard for a victory.

On Saturday evening the High school team will meet Bluffs here. The boys from the Wabash terminal are good players and put up a strong game. Some fast work is expected.

Coach Mitchell is undecided as to his lineup for the two games. There is so much sickness among the players that he does not know when some one will be reported sick.

Putnam probably will be unable to play in the Taylorville game. It is the intention of the coach if possible to use two separate line-ups in the two games if too much sickness does not hit the squad.

The probable lineup for the Taylorville game is Hopper, center; Hunter, Deatherage, Harrison forwards; Hunt, Zell, guards. Then he has in reserve Hackett and Dewese guards, Fitch center and Benson forward. Brockman of University of Illinois will referee the Taylorville game.

"I think that I can still beat any of the heavyweight wrestlers in the game today," he said adding that he plans to go into training shortly after his arrival in California.

THIS LITTLE BABY GIRL

Was Benefited by the Good Her Mother Got from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my little girl was born, and the effect it had was wonderful. This will be the first child I have nursed as I had to bring my two boys up on the bottle. I was very nervous and worried, tired all the time and after I read about the Vegetable Compound I tried it and kept on with it. I still continue its use and recommend it to my friends. You may publish these facts as a testimonial for your medicine."—Mrs. Wm. Klinge, 169 Plymouth St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after the birth of the child, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs.

The roll call was responded to by each member giving some missionary fact. The Scripture lesson was from Romans 10:11-15 and the study lesson topic was "Building With India." The hostess passed delightful refreshments during the social hour. The decorations were suggestive of the valentine season and the favors were little cupid.

Y. W. C. A. Had Special Program.

The Y. W. C. A. of Illinois college had a "post examination jubilee" as the program for the weekly meeting. This was really an annual event, as such a program is usually given at the end of the first semester and is anticipated with great pleasure. IMPROVED SERVICE ON WABASH IS RUMORED

Rumor is current that service on this division of the Wabash railroad is to be greatly improved in the course of a few weeks. It is possible that train No. 9, which formerly arrived at 12:30 p. m. may be restored and east bound train at 12:45 a. m. However, still greater interest attaches to the story that an entirely new train is being built for use on this division and will furnish fast day time service to Kansas City. This train known as the New York to Kansas City Wabash train, would make stops at Decatur, Springfield, Jacksonville and Hannibal, but none of the smaller towns. Reports with reference to the improved train service have not been verified and local representatives of the Wabash say that they have heard rumors of an improved time card but that definite facts are not available.

The Worth of a Christian College

(By Joseph R. Harker)

You can estimate the value of a Christian College to its community for a radius of one hundred miles and more, and to all the world? The college stands a beaconing light on a high tower, shining out its appealing ray to every capable boy and girl, urging them to light the candle of their highest aspirations and let it shine for humanity's sake. The college is a Voice, the Voice of Wisdom standing in the top of high places by the way, where the paths meet, at the entry of the city, at the coming in of the doors, a Voice crying aloud, and saying, that Wisdom is better than silver and gold and rubies, and that all things that men desire are not to be compared unto her. Hundreds and thousands of our choicest American youth, in this and the coming generations, young men and women who without a college in their midst, would never see this light, or hear this voice, will be drawn hither, and under the guidance of devoted and capable and inspiring teachers, will see visions and dream dreams.

A Vision of Community and World Needs

Here will be developed powers and capabilities of which they would otherwise never have been aware, here they will get a vision of community and world needs, here they will lose their selfish self-seeking, here they will dedicate their enlarged capabilities to the program of Jesus Christ in the service of their fellow men. The college will take your boys and girls, and make of them better and more capable men and women, able and willing to give of that which has made them better and more capable to the world in which they live.

The Scholar Not Provincial

For the scholar cannot be provincial. As a student, he may come from a small town. But educated, he belongs to all the world. Here, under God, you will light candles that will shine to the uttermost parts of the earth. In only a few brief years, because of our colleges, not only one state, not only all of America, but the whole world, will be debtor to the college city.

Greatly Worth While

Such an institution is surely worth while—in fact, nothing is more worth while. The greatest service that men and women of means can render is to give freely of their means to endow and equip such colleges, so that they may every year send out an increasing number of educated men and women, who will dedicate their trained abilities wherever most needed in unselfish service after the mind of Christ.

This is what the Woman's College has been and is worth to Jacksonville and to Illinois with increased endowment and greater current support it will render still more service.

LITERBERRY MAN PAINFULLY BURNED

George Wankle has Face and Hands Badly Burned When Oil Stove Explodes at Home Tuesday Night.

Literberry, Feb. 7.—George Wankle sustained severe burns about his face and hands Tuesday night when an oil stove exploded at his farm a few miles east of here. An oil heater which had been placed in an upstairs room for heating purposes exploded and set fire to the room.

Mr. Wankle rushed upstairs to extinguish the flames and in an effort to remove the heater his face and hands were quite severely burned. The flames were extinguished before a great deal of damage had been done to the house furnishings. Mr. Wankle was given the necessary medical attention, but his injuries are such as to cause considerable pain.

Chaps are not only unctionally but they are certainly unpleasant also. They become irritated, moist or dry, skin breaks open and it is hard to heal. Our Rose Cream Lotion has the true remedial effect on the skin. A good softener and a fine healer.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, it does the work without the blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

BELIEVES IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

To the Editor of The Journal:—

On January 10th, seven hundred fifty people gathered at the Hotel Biltmore, New York City, formed the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association. Many prominent Republicans were in the group, including Oscar S. Straus, former minister to Turkey. The League of Nations Non-Partisan Association was formed with the avowed purpose of cultivating such a public opinion as will induce the present Administration at Washington or the next Administration to enter the League of Nations on such terms as may be consistent with our Constitution and consonant with the moral responsibility and power of our Republic. Prominent in this gathering were a number of well known Republicans who belonged to the "Thirty One" (31) who issued the call in 1920 for all believers in the League of Nations to vote for Mr. Harding as he would be able to get us into the League where Mr. Wilson had failed. Many of those men formerly loyal to Mr. Harding said plainly that the present administration had failed to keep its promises about getting the United States into some Association of Nations; that there was no sign that it had any desire to take its place in any real way in the family of Nations. Therefore they had come to put it up directly to the United States whether they wanted to follow the Administration course of isolation or have the United States join the present League. Hon. George W. Wickersham presided as chairman. Among the principles adopted by this gathering were the following: "We, the members of this Association, believe: "That in view of the advance in the means of destruction in life and in war, the preservation of liberty and civilization, a corresponding advance must be made in governmental cooperation designed to make an end of war; "That some league or association of nations is the only form of international organization yet proposed that is adequate to accomplish this end; "And that three years of experience with the existing League, with its membership of more than fifty civilized nations, proves to be such an efficient and promising agency for the substitution of conference and law for force in international affairs, that the adherence to it by the United States would render it the greatest moral and political agency hitherto devised for securing the peace of the world."

This group of people contain many who are leaders in the educational, religious, political and business world. Justice John H. Clarke of the United States Supreme court recently resigned his high position for the express purpose of working for our entrance into the League of Nations. His address on that occasion supported the contention that only one of two courses is open to our nation, either entrance into the League or militarism. He quoted General Pershing as urging our people to prepare for the next war. He quoted Secretary Denby declaring, "we must have a navy, second to none in the world—in preparation for the next war. He quoted Secretary Weeks advising that our national safety requires that our army shall be increased—in preparation for the next war. He quoted President Harding commending to Congress a proposed "survey of a plan to draft all our resources" for national defense so that we should be "prepared for a universal call to armed defense"—in the next war.

Justice Clarke describes what this war will be—a thing fearful to contemplate. His whole plea—and he was applauded to the echo—was that it is a choice between the world organized on a community basis or a destruction of civilization by future wars. Justice Clarke's address is widely circulated.

This is a most significant expression of opinion on the part of publicans who refuse to be blind-coast. It shows that there are hundreds of nationally-known Republicans who refuse to be blinded by partisan rancor to the great issues confronting the world. The old contention that entrance into the League meant entrance into war now appears far from the truth. It is becoming clearer every month that if we are to keep out of war—cold war—we must get into some association of nations that can supremely to maintain a world peace.

Very sincerely yours,
Thomas W. Smith.

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 10.

Pensions paid by a corporation or an individual to retired employees for services rendered are taxable. Pensions paid by the federal government to retired civil employees also are taxable, except as provided by the revenue act of 1921, which exempts "amounts received as compensation, family allowances and allowances under the provision of the war risk insurance act, or as pensions from the United States for services of the beneficiary of another in the military or naval service of the United States in time of war." Under prior acts all pensions paid in recognition of services rendered by the pensioner were taxable.

Allowances, whether paid by the government or private individuals to one who performed no duties, as, for example, to a widow in recognition of services performed by her husband, are regarded as gifts, and are not taxable.

Pensions and bonuses paid by a state or political subdivision thereof to its residents who served in the military or naval forces during the war with Germany do not constitute taxable income.

Benefits paid by a labor union to members while on strike are to be included in the income, subject to tax, of such members.

Annuities paid retired employees of the federal government under the act of May 22, 1920, are subject to the tax to the extent that the aggregate amount of payments exceeds the amount withheld from the salary of the employee. If an employee leaves the civil service before becoming eligible for retirement and receives the amount of salary withheld, together with interest he should report as income only the amount of interest for the year in which received.

Market Report

By The Associated Press

WAR TALK AFFECTS WHEAT MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Renewed talk of war between Turkey and Great Britain with an increase of buying on President Harding's message to congress regarding settlement of the British war debt to the United States had a decided bullish effect today in the wheat market.

Closing prices were firm, 1c to 2 1/2¢ net higher, May $1.20 1/2 to $1.20 3/4, and July $1.14 1/2 to $1.14 3/4. Corn gained 1/2¢ to 1 1/2¢, oats finished 1/2¢ off to 1/2¢ up and provisions at an advance of 1/2¢ to 5/8¢.

Despite a setback in Liverpool quotations the wheat market here began to move upward almost from the outset and showed pronounced strength in the final hour of trading. The buying, which was chiefly from commission houses and from shorts, expanded with each successive development pointing to greater chances of an actual outbreak of hostilities in the Near East.

Meanwhile such news had a tendency to restrict selling, and thus lift values, the close being at about the day's top figures, the highest level in 1923.

Some of the wheat buying in connection with President Harding's message apparently was associated with gossip that Great Britain would have far-reaching effects in other European countries and would tend to promote a general revival of export business. Falling off in primary receipts today especially in the northwest countered also as a strengthening factor, notwithstanding that for the past four days Minneapolis wheat stocks showed an increase of 475,000 bushels.

Argentine crop damage reports gave independent strength to the corn market.

All deliveries reached a new high price record for the season. Oats averaged higher with corn.

Provisions at first reflected downturns in the hog market, but later were governed chiefly by the action of grain.

LINCOLN IS TYPE OF NATIONAL IDEAL

Dr. Barton, in Address Wednesday Night, Describes Emancipator as Greatest American—Fellowship Supper is Well Attended.

"Happy is the nation which finds its ideals expressed in the personalities of its leaders," said Dr. William E. Barton of Chicago, the eminent Lincoln scholar and Congregational minister, in his address last night before a large audience at Congregational church. Dr. Barton had as his subject "Lincoln and the American Ideal." He called the roll of the great men of the nation, from the chivalrous and courageous Capt. John Smith to Theodore Roosevelt. The speaker said in part:

"What does it mean to have a man in a nation who stands out from childhood as a lover of truth, who is first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen, who combines the qualities of general and statesman, as does George Washington? Again, what does it mean to a nation to have a leader who arose from a condition of physical weakness, who overcame the handicap of great wealth, who boisterously flung his hat into the ring of politics and patriotic life, and who embodied the ideals of America as did Theodore Roosevelt? When he passed away, people realized that something sacred and wholesome had been taken from the nation, but the memory of whose life and ideals should never perish.

"And between these two great figures, what does it mean to have a Lincoln? He stood alone, in communion with God and the people, bearing the nation's burdens and sorrows. Two things characterize great leaders in a republic. The king may lend dignity to his office by virtue of his royalty and his throne, but he may be a commonplace man, but leaders in a republic must be trained. They must be of the people.

"Lincoln came from common parentage. His parents were decent, respectable citizens. Nancy Hanks was no extraordinary woman, but she was a virtuous woman. Thomas Lincoln was sober, and religious, the not over industrious. Lincoln embodied in his own life the representative life of the people of America. Beginning in the humble cabin amid primitive surroundings he heard the tales of the pioneers, of the killing of his own grandfather by savages.

"Later he went into the settlement, then to the county seat, then to the young capital of a young state. He traveled by river, by stage coach and horse back, and finally by the locomotive. At last he went to Washington to live in the highest place in the nation. He lived the life of the whole people. As Lincoln's spirit passed out from the back room of that lodging house near Ford's theater on that April morning in 1865, the member of the cabinet who had virtually headed the government during the long night in which the president hovered between life and death, remarked, 'Now he belongs to the ages.' It is true; Lincoln belongs to the ages; but he stands as representative of America and its ideal."

In his closing remarks Dr. Barton referred to Lincoln as a man of vision. It is the characteristic of a leader that he must see farther than the people. Lincoln was able to do this. He was like Moses, who could lead the people from the slavery of Egypt, guide them thru the wilderness, and finally point the way into the Promised Land.

Dr. Barton's address last night was preceded by a fellowship supper in the social rooms of the church. More than a hundred persons were in attendance. The supper was prepared by the Ladies Aid of the church, under the direction of Mrs. L. S. Doane and served by the young people. Dr. Barton spoke briefly on a religious subject following the meal. A social hour was enjoyed before the main address of the evening.

Wednesday morning at Illinois College chapel, Dr. Barton delivered an address on "The Education of Abraham Lincoln," in which he stated that both Lincoln and his sweetheart, Anne Rutledge, might have been students in Jacksonville, had not the death of Anne frustrated their probable plans.

RETAIL CLOTHIERS TO HOLD CONVENTION

State Association Will Meet in Chicago During Coming Week—Great Increase in Membership Under Leadership of T. M. Tomlinson and Associates.

The official program of the thirteenth annual convention of the Illinois Retail Clothiers association just issued shows that this convention will be of more than usual importance. The convention is to be held at Hotel LaSalle, February 13, 14 and 15. Especial local interest attaches to the convention from the fact that T. M. Tomlinson is the president. Since Mr. Tomlinson and his associate officers have been in power the membership of the organization has been increased from 132 to 325. This achievement has been possible thru the earnest co-operative effort on the part of the officers.

In Jacksonville in addition to Mr. Tomlinson, Myers Bros., Tom Duffner and J. W. Lane & Son have membership in the state organization and all these firms will send representatives to the Chicago convention.

The first session will be held on the morning of Tuesday, February 13, when Mr. Tomlinson will present his report, to be followed by reports by the secretary, treasurer and national director. At noon a luncheon will be tendered by the Men's Apparel club. At this event the invocation will be by Rev. Arthur F. Ewert, now pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Chicago and an address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor William Hale Thompson.

The principal address will be by Fred C. Voyland of Topeka, Kans., president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, whose theme will be "What of 1923?" Other speakers will be R. C. Visk of Chicago, president of the Men's Apparel club, S. B. VanAmburgh, of New York, who is editor of the Silent Partner. A reception and dance will be given in the evening, followed by a buffet luncheon.

As an added feature of the program the committee has secured the promise of the presence of Senator Hiram Johnson of California. At the Wednesday session addresses will be made by L. L. Marienthal, president of the Chicago Associated Salesmen of Boys' Wear, and also by Fred R. Mann, Sr., of Devil's Lake, N. D. Thursday's program will continue thruout the entire day and the principal address will be by Franklin Whitney of Boston, Mass., national president of the Men's Apparel club, who will speak as his theme "Going Fishing."

The election of officers will occur at 3 p. m., and shortly afterward the convention will adjourn. The present officials and directors are as follows:
